

Christian Schöfer, PhD

PROFESSIONAL CURRICULUM

Current position: Associate Professor, Medical University of Vienna,
Center for Anatomy and Cell Biology, Division of Cell and Developmental Biology

Studies:

1981: Studies of Biology at the University Vienna
April 30, 1990: Graduation to PhD (Dr. phil.) at the University Vienna

Professional experience:

1990-1992: Post-doc in the lab of Professor Franz Wachtler at the Institute for Histology and Embryology at the University Vienna.
1992-2001: Assistant Professor at the Institute for Histology and Embryology
March 21, 2001: Associate Professor („Habilitation“) at the Medical Faculty of the University Vienna
Since 2004: Associate Professor at the Center for Anatomy and Cell Biology at the Medical University of Vienna

Visiting and guest scientist:

Inst. of Experimental Medicine (Prague), Dept. of Genetics, Univ. Marseille, Dept. of Anatomy, Univ. Freiburg i. Br., Kirchoff-Institute for Applied Physics, Univ. Heidelberg

Publications:

More than 60 papers in international peer-reviewed journals and 7 book chapters

Meetings:

(Co-)organization of 4 international meetings (100-600 pax); 51 presentations (11 of which invited); member of international congress advisory boards (including European Microscopy Congress 2012 and International Microscopy Congress 2014)

Memberships:

Austrian Society for Electron Microscopy (ASEM), International Society for Differentiation (ISD); currently board member and treasurer of the European Microscopy Society (EMS)

Reviewing:

Journals, grant agencies, member of international appointment selection board (CEITEC, Brno), reviewer on national imaging initiatives (in particular Czech-Bioimaging)

Christian Schöfer, m.p.

Vienna, February 1st, 2017